Introducing a New Academe

Heretofore the policy of the Academe has been to present the school formally in "best dress"; this year we will endeavor to portray the life of Academy as it really is: informal, hard-working, hard-playing, artistically modern. We shall achieve this by new, informal arrangements; by the use of color—never before attempted; by still-life photographs in the third dimension; and by reducing the editorial material to a minimum. We feel that this edition is the acme of modernity; we offer it to you, the reader, confident of your approval

We Present:

The Faculty

Dedi

We have lost a true friend. Lost? Yes, but only in the physical sense of the word, because the things that "Darby" did, and what he stood for, cannot be stricken out or forgotten merely by the passing of the man.

Mr. Mannix will always remain in the memories of those who knew him for his character was of such that it will leave its imprint in our school long after this book has ceased to exist. He truly represented the ideal of American manhood.

So, it is with these few points in mind, that we respectfully co-dedicate this 1941 issue of the Academe to Mr. James Mannix.

Although "Demmy" has officially retired, we still frequently see him in the halls talking to the students and promoting good-will as has always been his custom.

Mr. Dimorier will be sadly missed in Academy, but nevertheless, we shall still see him occassionally because he continues to retain his enthusiastic interest in our choral groups, especially the Choir.

With the wish of his continued health and happiness, we co-dedicate this issue of the Academe to Mr. Dimorier.

They that govern make least noise, as they that row the barge do work and puff and sweat, while he that governs sits quietly at the stern, and scarce is seen to stir.

—Selden.

An Open Letter

Unsettled world conditions make the present a serious time in education. Students are already anticipating what will be best to know when the war is over. Dire panics are predicted with its millions of idle people and few jobs available. A warning is perhaps necessary. History never repeats itself in exactly the same manner. Intervening changes alter the final outcome and bring new and strange difficulties.

The best message to youth today seems to be to become serious about your education. Get plenty of information and build a broad foundation upon which to build the changes that we can not now foretell. Learn to adapt yourself to changes. Become broad minded and ready to see the silver lining. Keep faith in America and build your life in accordance with the true principles of American Democracy. Then your life will strengthen our country and our freedom will react upon you to bless you and keep you.

Miss Tanner

To Miss Tanner, our assistant principal, we offer our heartiest thanks for her graceful cooperation and assistance throughout the year. Besides handling the regular office duties, she has added the monitor force to her daily routine. Without her guidance and talent for organization, the school would be at a loss.

Office Force

To manage all the numerous details of school office-work, and to make sure that the school program is run efficiently, besides their other optional activities, these are the duties of the Office Force.

Miss Hakel, Miss Waugh, and Miss Weber are constantly at work in the office, and it can truly be said that because of the many diversified situations they must confront, they never have a dull moment.

It has been our custom, every year, to merely thank the Office Force, but this year we wish to leave with future Senior classes, the idea of something more than just verbal thanks to our office workers.

Even teachers eat!

?—Your guess is as good as ours.

Giggling girls.

What do you know, Joe?

The Faculty

The unfailing efforts of the faculty during the past year to promote co-operation between the students and teachers, and to encourage extra-curricular activities in the school, have helped much toward the growth and development of our school. Most of the members of the faculty have chosen this work, not because of the financial benefits derived from it, but because they have a special interest in that type of work, and like to associate with and advise young people. Besides their training, the character and personality of each teacher does much to create in students a liking for a particular subject. The teachers are always willing to meet the students half-way and to do everything in their power to promote interest in their respective classes.

Outside of school the members of the faculty engage in many varied activities, both social and philanthropic. Some of them have formed bridge clubs and bowling teams, and show an active interest in sports.

With the teachers in our school rests principally the responsibility of molding the character of the students, the coming citizens of our community.

The students of Academy extend to the faculty their sincere appreciation for all they have done to promote the development of our school.

Hitch your wagon to a star, keep your seat—
And there you are! Remember?

Seniors

Parties

The February Seniors were social-minded, but in a way different from most other classes. They found closed class parties most enjoyable, and proceeded to fill their last semester with a variety of them, that is, with one exception. And that was a reception held September 13 in honor of the new 10-1's. The next social affair was a party held at the Log Cabins on the Peninsula, with the great outdoors providing sufficient entertainment.

Then, on September 20, the class sponsored a Football Dance in the girl's gym. The unusual decorations, featuring the colors of all the schools, as well as the presence of a few of our Louisville rivals, made this an unusual event for Academy.

The Halloween Party held at Gustafson's Hall, featured an abundance of all Halloween Eve atmosphere, cider and doughnuts, and games and dancing. The last party was given at the Varsity, where the class was entertained by its own excellent, but heretofore undiscovered talent.

As a fitting climax, there was a Banquet Dance held at the Lawrence Hotel, January 22. An excellent menu, a minimum of long speeches, and a good band for the dance made this occasion a beautiful finish to the classes social history.

February Seniors

"Once in a Lifetime" . . . .

"Once in a Lifetime" presented by the February seniors in November, was the kind of comedy success that a class presents just once in a lifetime. Mr. Arthur Shephard of Erie directed this portrayal of Hollywood life as it was at the birth of the "talkie."

A large cast of eight leads and over thirty supporting-speaking roles effectively lived the somewhat hectic life of the movie capitol for but two brief nights. Who will ever forget Herman Glogauer's super production, the bishop's hot tip, or George's peanuts?

"Once in a Lifetime" was an all-around success in fun for the cast, entertainment for the audience, and monetary returns for the class.

"Hi-Speed"

The June Seniors presented a play entitled "Hi-Speed" written and directed most capably by Mr. Lee Winter. The plot concerned the many happenings in the haphazard life of four mechanics on a race track. Through the complete cooperation of the entire senior class, the play really did have "high speed!"

The well-chosen cast presented the play successfully three consecutive nights. The audiences were enthusiastic and readily responded to the many humorous situations in the play. So favorable were the many comments about the show, that it played to packed houses every night.

When the final receipts were tabulated, it was found that the seniors had profited by four hundred dollars. With this money, the class hopes to make some worth-while contribution to our school.

Mid-Year Prom

The June Seniors presented the prom January 29, at Rainbow Gardens with Paul Pendarvis and his Orchestra, in honor of the graduating class.

Commencement Speakers

"I Choose America" has been selected as the basic theme for the June Commencement speakers. This subject will be treated in such a way that it will bring out the reasons for one's choice of America as the ideal place to live.

At present, there are fourteen tentative speakers but it is believed that this number will be lessened to ten.

Due to its patriotic trend, the theme should meet with the approval of all, and we firmly believe that the speakers will do their utmost to leave everyone impressed, convinced, and gratified that we do live in America.

Football

The Academy Lions, in their best year since 1928, waded through the toughest competition in many years to capture the city series and complete a perfect season—undefeated!

In the ten games that Academy played, three were tied and seven won by a decisive margin. Academy had its hardest game with Canton, Ohio—but through luck and persistence, the boys were able to hold the mighty combine to a 6-6 stalemate.

The team was rather unusual as football teams go, having no one or two men who used the other nine as barricades, but having a combination of men who were equally good and shared almost equally in the glory.

The line, one of the heaviest Academy has ever had, was one of the fastest. Its exceptional goal-line stands were the talk of the town.

The backfield, which carried the ball for 195 points, was the perfect example of deception. All the players were small and exceptionally fast, which made the ball handlers elusive as spirits.

All in all, the boys made a great team—great enough to regain the city championship—great enough to place six men on the city all star team—great enough to play a season undefeated.

Basketball

Academy started its 1940-41 season definitely handicapped by graduation. After a bad start, the team succeeded in brushing aside competition with considerable vigor for a time. The crusade was short lived, however, for inadequate substitution took its toll and the season came to a climax with the yielding of the city championship to East.

Basketball—cont.

Mr. Thomas is not without hope for the future as the team has many capable players and has gained valuable experience from the defeats of the past season.

Track

The 1941 track team is one of the most brilliant squads ever to represent Academy. For the first time in many seasons, we are exceptionally strong in both track and field events. We have three crack cinder-path artists in Rex Pettigrew, "Dutch" Holland, and Alan Riley who will be ably matched in the field events by Lubert Rastatter, Herb Tucker and Pete Krivonak.

Although only three meets, including one with last year's city champs, Vincent, have, at the time of this publication, have been completed, they have been won in exceptionally successful style and indicate, barring mishaps, another triumphal season for Coach DeTuerk, and possibly, the regaining of the city championship.

Academy can be justly proud of its past record and, with the splendid reserve material for the coming year, can be confident of its future track teams.

The squad of 1941 will be another champion for Academy.

Golf

Academy has been more consistent than any other school in providing the keenest of competition on the golf links. With a veteran team returning for 1941, Coach Scrafford feels confident that Academy is master of the situation. As interest continues its steady climb among the students for this Scottish game of skill, we anticipate even greater Academy teams.

Tennis

Mr. Leamy is compelled, through graduation, to build a new Academy tennis team around the bare nucleus of succeeding squads. Several encouraging practices have taken place, and the prospects are not at all bad. Good luck Academy.

Wrestling

Weakened deceisively by the graduation of several top-flight veterans, the Academy matmen were unable to equal their previcus good records. However, Coach Towns has been training recruits and is not at all dissatisfied with the results. The accumulation of a high score is not the only evidence of a good team and its value.

You can't keep a good man down.

Tom Boyd

Swimming

Academy's swimming team suffered one of its worst seasons in the history of the school during the past year. Its ranks dwindled by graduation, its spirit lost in defeat —the boys seemed unable to get the upper hand and to hold it.

Although the boys did not win, they could not lose, for the fellowship and experience derived from the sport could but spell victory. The team, with fresh material and valuable experience, is gazing longingly in to the future with hope in their hearts and revenge in their eyes.

Intramural

The intramural program is designed to encourage active competition in the various sports in an informal manner. At designated times throughout the year, boys are admitted to open competition in all of the indoor sports. Although the measure in glory is lacking, the love of invigorating competition prevails to give an amply abundant reward.

Cheerleaders

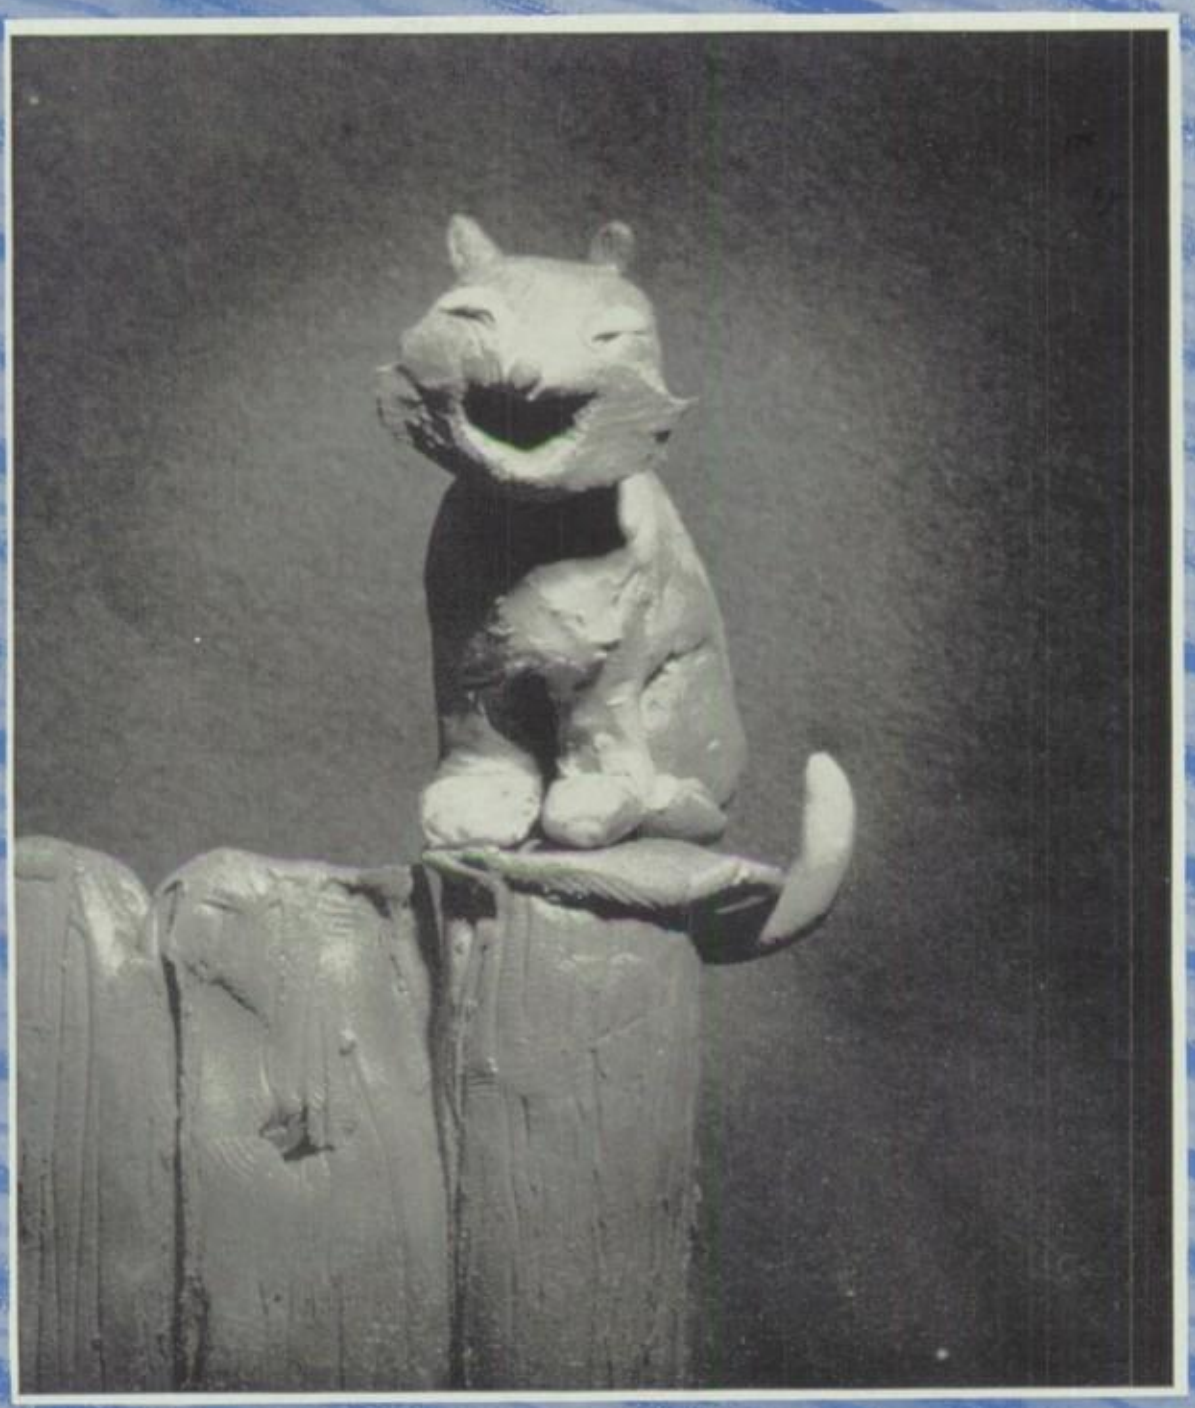
Upon the shoulders of the cheerleaders rests the task of promoting school spirit among the students at Academy. This is accomplished by hard work in developing and practicing cheers, by introducing new cheers and songs, and by their enthusiastic leadership at rallies and athletic events.

Much credit is due them for their cooperative attitude and loyalty. Through their leadership they arouse the school to back the teams with real pep which is necessary when the going proves tough.

This year the cheerleading squad accompanied the football team to Canton, Ohio, where they, with the cooperation of the spectators from Erie, urged the team on to a successful finish.

Music, the greatest good that mortals know,
And all of heaven we have below.

—Addison.



Music

"Music hath Charms"

Probably no phase of school life is more enjoyable to the students and teachers alike, than the musical departments.

We, at Academy, have made a name for ourselves in the musical field by the development of a fine orchestra and band and exceptionally splendid choral groups. Our band is one of state-wide prominence and our Academy Singers have gained national recognition.

Due to the excellent supervision of Mr. Grender, Mr. Owens, and Miss Schweitzer, Academy's musical organizations have gradually developed, and are contlnuing to develop and improve each year into more versatile and accomplished groups.

The Academy Senior Orchestra plays the great classical music of the world, but for variety some of the more modern compositions. Through the interpretation of their director, Mr. Owens, the members come to appreciate the music they play. They have found that understanding brings better musical presentation of the master-pieces of the world.

The Orchestra, in conjunction with the Band, presents two concerts every year for those who enjoy classical and modern music. They high-lighted a very successful season when the members went to Cleveland to hear two operas, "Cavelleira Rusticanna" and "Pagliacci" at Cleveland's magnificent Public Auditorium.

President.....Stanley Shaw

The appearance of The Band never fails to arouse a sensation of loyalty in the hearts of the students, to quicken their pulses in pride, and to give them a vision of the tradition that is Academy. The "boys in blue" are as much a part of the football game as the players themselves and the semi-annual concert that the Band gives is always well attended.

The seventy-five piece band accompanied the football team to Canton at the expense of the school this year. The boys in the Band are dreaming of many similar trips to be made in the future.

The Academy A Cappella Choir, composed of sixty-five student vocalists of exceptional ability, trained under the able leadership of Mr. O. L. Grender, has brought nationwide recognition to Academy. Good music under capable directors is a tradition here; the band, the orchestra, the Girl's Chorus and Glee Club—all uphold this tradition; but the A Cappella Choir is the veteran musical organization and a tradition in itself.

Each year's work in the Choir is climaxed by the Choir Trip, a series of concerts in various places ending ln a national broadcast in one of the major cities of America. This year the goal is Boston. The Choir will present concerts in Rochester, Schenectady, Syracise, New York, and on the campuses of Vassar and Colgate.

The Boy's Glee Club of Academy High School is, officially, an organization for male vocalists under the direction of Mr. Grender; and established for the purpose of providing material for the bass and tenor sections of the A Cappella Choir. The training these boys receive is very much like that of the Girl's Chorus. It enables the director to accurately judge ability and aptitude, for more thana voice is required to meet the high standards of the Choir.

Unofficially, the Glee Club is an organization for boys who enjoy singing. Many boys in the Choir continue their membership in the Glee Club because they like the rollicking tunes and the merry comradeship of the club.

The Girl's Chorus is a democratic work-shop for young vocalists—the only ones barred are the boys. Under the careful tutorship of Miss Schwieitzer, they acquaint themselves with the fundamentals of music and voice technique, and gain ability through continuous practice in reading and ear training. By participating in the annual Christmas and Spring Concerts of the Choir, they gather experience in performing before large audiences.

The year in the Chorus is culminated by the Choir try-outs, when those possessing ability and showing progress in training are accepted into that renowned choral group. Those who are not successful usually continue with the Chorus; some to try again, others for the fun of singing.

Drum and Bugle Corps

The Academy Drum and Bugle Corps was organized seven years ago. Since then it has made itself an essential part of every football game and of every patriotic celebration. The Corps is composed of fifty girls in six units: snare drums, bass drums, panel bugles, tenor bugles, bass bugles, and the twirlers. The five musical units bring harmony to the melodies, and the six twirlers furnish entertainment in a display of dextrous skill. The majestic drum major is an expert twirler; her dainty highstepping makes her the center of attention whenever the Corps march. This they do at all footballs games, at occasional basketball games, on Decoration Day, and on Labor Day.

The Corps is almost entirely independent financially; expenses are met by proceeds from the two skating parties and the dance which it sponsors each year. Miss Meyette supervises the drills; Miss Schweitzer, the music.

Junior Orchestra

Under the capable direction and supervision of Miss Switzer, the members of the Junior Orchestra—the younger musical members of our large student body—are preparing themselves to carry on the fame and renown of the Senior Musical Organizations after the present members have graduated. They are learning to appreciate, interprete, and enjoy the music that has been cherished by music-lovers, great and small, for ages. They will be able to carry into the future the standard for Academy's musical organizations created by the past and present members.

The Student Senate, under the leadership of two fine presidents, Joseph Senger and Donald MacPherson, has gone far toward forwarding the ideals of democracy and leadership in Academy.

The Senate, once just a dream cherished by the students, has developed into a well organized, smoothly moving, indespensible unit of government. It has carried on morally, spiritually, and financially, the duties of a democracy and has completed the project successfully.

The Senate for the year 1941 can be justly proud of its record for it has been successful in all its undertakings. It has been the instigator of some necessary reforms in our school and, in general, has fulfilled its main resolve, to be the true representative of the student body.

National Honor Society

Officers

President	Stanley Shaw—Paul Heberle
Vice President	Carol Davis—Doris Greiner
Secretary	Eleanor Epp—Miriam Tate
Treasurer	Leland Batdorf—Don Patton

The Academy Chapter of the National Honor Society under its able leader, Miss Hunt, has had a very active year: in November, the Society joined Vincent, East, and Tech in a banquet; in December, it delivered baskets to nine needy families; in January, it inducted twenty-four new members on the qualifications of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. During the year, Academy-engraved stationery was sold and the proceeds formed the base of the Society's annual prize awarded to two tenth grade students, exemplary in the characteristics of the senior organization. A social gathering and impressive spring ceremony were planned.

To prepare with much forethought and consideration; to present to the best of their ability, and finally, to distribute the book among the students, these are the duties of the entire Academe Staff.

The staffs, this year, have tended to guide, informally, the theme of the book towards the cultural development in our school. Through this theme, the staff has endeavored to develop a phase of school life, never before considered.

With this purpose in mind, the Academe Staff has presented the 1941 Academe, firm in their belief that it will meet with the approval of all its readers.

Mary Lou

Library Staff

Seated—Mrs. Howe, D. Taylor, J. Kerr, H. Harpst. Standing—Y. Cokefair, D. Carlson, M. Bliven, J. Pettibone, M. Bentley.

The Library Staff stands as a symbol of courtesy and helpfulness in our school. The members of this staff apply for positions each semester, and are chosen by Mrs. Howe, our librarian. A few members of the staff are present every period of the day and it is their duty to carry on such work as, checking books in and out, arranging shelves, guiding students to the right books, and in general, carrying out minor duties in the library. The experience that is acquired on this staff has helped many Academy graduates, in college, to become assistants in college libraries.

Star Staff

Row 1—E. O'Connell, V. Nellis, B. Specter, N. Casper, K. Egler. Row 2—M. Paradine, D. Jeffery, J. Lawers, G. Mello. Standing—Mr. Radder, G. Schnell, A. Alward, P. Heberle, J. Wilkinson, A. Riley, H. Lefaiver, R. Foster, W. Saunders, L. Winters.

The "Star," Academy's first and only school paper, has been with Academy for twenty-one years. During that twenty-one years the "Star" has not swerved from its unerring course,—the excellent presentation of school news, how and when Academy students want it. The "Star," this year, has instigated some worth-while social reforms in the school, besides presenting three successful dances and two novel assemblies. They also guided the campaign that resulted in the erection of the beautiful "A" that hung in front of the school during the last Christmas season, and aroused so many favorable comments from both townsfolk and tourists. This "A" will hang in front of the school in future Christmas seasons and possibly during the football season. Then it will be decorated with blue and gold lights.

This year's administration of the "Star" has proclaimed the "Star" to be a paper, "of the students, by the students, and for the students!"

Club Program

"We must be doing something to be happy" wrote Hazlitt many years ago, and the same principle is true today. It is for this reason that clubs first found a place in Academy life. At first clubs and other extracurricular activities were excluded from the school hours; in the last few years, however, there has been a definite trend toward the development of hobbies. Such clubs as the Press Club, Hobby Club, Cheerleader's Club, Cinema Club, Camera Club, Senior Sportsman's Club, and many others have been introduced and have attracted an enthusiastic following.

Last year the club program in general was reorganized in order to put more emphasis on junior activities. More study halls have been arranged for senior students, and the larger clubs are again after-school affairs. This does not signify defeat for the club program; on the contrary, it indicates such an overwhelming success that it is impossible to include one weekly club period.

The Junior Red Cross of Academy is a good example of the service these groups are doing all over the country. Mr. Cofini's classes this year made sleds and other wooden toys for crippled children. Miss Schaper's classes have sewed plump, stuffed animals and cuddly rag dolls for the children at the School for the Blind in Pittsburgh, Pa. Covers for the braille books of the blind have been made by Miss Lord's art classes.

When the call came from the National Headquarters for wearing apparel to clothe war victims, Academy readily responded. Miss Williams classes plied their needles in gay, sturdy little dresses; Miss Badger's and Miss Bateson's clubs learned to knit and crochet, and soon sweaters, caps, socks, layettes, wash clothes, bathrobes, and boy's shirts were being packed and shipped.

We are justly proud of Academy's Junior Red Cross, the soldiers of peace.

Teen-Hi Round Table

Like other clubs of its type, the Teen-Hi Round Table is growing in popularity; its principle is that students need advice not found in textbooks. Under the supervision of Miss Mohney, these girls present for discussion such personal topics as etiquette, appropriate costumes for certain occasions, boy and girl relationships, and personality traits. Magazine articles and books by accepted authorities are used for reference, but the opinions of each student are enthusiastically received and considered.

Row 1—R. Jenkins, B. Hesch, W. Holland, J. Bikki, J. Dietzel, G. Hausman. Row 2—B. Campbell, J. Rosequist, J. Swift, B. Horn, C. Swahn, A. Boskowski, S. A. Schwab, J. Matthews, B. Paterson, W. Task, R. Starks, M. Davis, D. Conway, P Yaple, B. Ahenger.

Amateur Club

The recently organized Amateur Club, of which Mr. Swahn, is advisor, was instituted for the purpose of discovering and developing amateur talent for our high school assemblies. Following a unique Major Bowe's plan, the club endeavors to overcome the embarrassment and self-consciousness of student players by repeated performances before familiar audiences. All types of talent are represented In the club: elocutionists, vocalists, tap and classical dancers, pianists, instrumentalists, and dramatists. The climax of their year is the assembly program they have planned. With the existence of such clubs as this, Academy can expect more and better varied programs in the future.

Rod and Gun Club

The Academy Rod and Gun Club was founded on the principle of better sportsmanship in field and stream. The members of the club have endeavored to emphasize this point by frequent talks and discussions on the conservation and restocking of fish and game.

Their's is a most commendable aim, especially today, when we in America have chosen to practically ignore most of our wildlife. So, we wish the Academy Rod and Gun Club the best of success in its venture, firm in the realization that its program will not only benefit present sportsmen but sportsmen of the future.

Ushers' Club

Row 1—V. Yeager, I. Freor, L. Valimont—Vice President, V. Robie—Treasurer, R. Swanson—Secretary, C. Terwilliger, B. Keep. Row 2—R. Yushkewicz, V. Rutkoski, M. Prylinski, I. Hammerman, H. The Ushers Club is one of the most important organizations of our school. Its members are trained to assist at all social functions. During the past year they have been most helpful at football games, concerts, plays, commencements, and in taking charge of checkrooms at times when checkrooms were necessary. In order to assist in this manner the students must learn the seating arrangement of both the stadium and the auditorium. The members of this club have also sponsored a number of skating parties and dances during the past year, and through the cooperation of the student body, were successful in each of these. We, here at Academy, are glad to have a club whereby those students who are interested, may be trained in such a way that we may be rightfully proud of our ushers whenever they appear at any of our social functions.

Beauty Culture Club

Row 1—D. Weber, H. Weber, H. Fuller, M. Bahan, L. Crawford—Secretary, R. Seigler—President, D. Melzer—Vice President, M. Bahan, M. VanArnam, S. Tanenbaum, M. Tanenbaum. Row 2—B. Hartman, B. Kleckner, M. Ohmer, D. Applebee. Row 4—D. Taylor, G. Hudson, J. Ericsson, J. Rubin, G. Bucher, B. Weiss, W. Lesnicki, N. Hlynsky, B. Wilson.

The Beauty Culture Club, under the direction of Miss Giltner, has a three-fold objective: the analysis of personal assets and liabilities, the effective means of developing these assets, and the increase of social success by so doing. Realizing that beauty aids have a psychological effect on the health of the feminine mind, the club encourages the use of beauty preparations, and emphasizes the wise choice and use of cosmetics in order to achieve the best results in health and beauty. Since a healthy body is a most important asset, physical hygiene is also studied. The effect that these factors, care and grooming, have upon satisfactory relationship with others is thoroughly discussed. These girls talk over their problems in small groups, and from frank discussion, gather assurance to face modern life.

Booster Club

The Booster Club, with the help of its advisor, Miss Olsen, aims to promote activities of the school. One of their principal projects during the past year was to place monitors at the stairs to see that everyone used the correct stairways. The members of this club feel that they have been successful in eliminating some of the confusion in the halls by means of this project. Another way in which they have been most helpful was in their endeavor to encourage the boys to remove their hats when inside the building. They have always been willing to back any worthwhile activities of our school.

Dance Band

The Dance Band Club, which is under the direction of Mr. Towns, is one of the more recently formed clubs here at Academy. This club was organized principally to teach those students, who at sometime might play in a dance band, how to play dance music. Most of its members are particularly interested in our modern orchestras and make a study of the different styles of playing used by various band leaders. The members of this club devote a great deal of time outside of their club period to practice and have made rapid progress since the club was first organized.

Gym Leaders

The Gym Leaders Club is under the direction of Miss Meyette. This club was organized principally to train girls to help with gym classes. Its members are taught various games that may be played in the gymnasium and given instructions in how to teach these games. Their meetings, however, are not entirely given over to instruction. Sometimes the girls play games among themselves and this helps to make their club period more enjoyable. Most of these girls have leadership ability and through their activities in this club are able to develop this ability to a greater extent.

Row 1—H. Loomis, D. Malthaner, D. Hedges, W. Sweet, J. Teal, T. Manross. Row 2—D. Ballard, J. McCullough, M. Fioretti, D. Carlson, Mr. Davis, F. King, V. Parmerter, C. Mrozoski. Row 3—R. Camera Club

Amateur photography is steadily increasing in popularity; for this reason, the Camera Club is one of Academy's most popular clubs. Under the direction of Mr. Davis, the members of this club are able to become familiar with the different types of cameras, methods employed in taking pictures, and how to print and development their own pictures. Guest speakers from different studios have talked to the students on modern methods of photography. This club has helped to provide a very interesting and enjoyable hobby for its members, and for some it may have incited the desire to take up photography as a life profession.

Skinner, M. Recker, J. Steadman, R. Lawson. Row 3—A. Smelowitz, N. Chase, E. Ziegler, G. Smith, H. Hutnyak, V. Shugardt, P. Carr, P. Young.

Knitting Club

The excellent pieces of workmanship displayed by the members of the Knitting Club are reliable evidence of the diligence and co-operation that exists within the organization. The sweaters and socks knitted for the Red Cross prove that the club has something to offer its members over and above the teaching of the use of yarn and needles, and the developing of worthwhile leisure time habits.

As one of the leading clubs at Academy, it is doing a great deal toward developing in its members those qualities of unselfishness and good will so sorely needed to retain the democratic ideals we all cherish.

Hank Fish

Andersen, W. Quinn—Treasurer, R. Blasco.

Nature Study

The chief aim of the members of the Nature Study Club is to live up to the name of their club. Building upon a foundation of interest stimulated in biology classes, they strive to become better acquainted with the outdoors. They have found this a difficult task for their subject is wide and inexhaustable, as well as interesting and enjoyable.

Last fall the members of the club took advantage of the clear autumn nights to become star-gazers, concentrating on Saturn and Jupiter.

They spent the winter studying the leaves and birds of this locality with the aid of a motion-picture projector, and this spring they carried their investigation into the fields surrounding the school.

Cinema Club

The Cinema Club is a practical organization as well as an enjoyable one for its members, who are busy studying technical books, study guides, scripts, plays, and novels suitable for motion-picture production. Motion-picture terminology, production, directing, acting, costuming, stage-setting, and photography are some of the phrases of the "magic-lantern" industry in which the club takes a definite interest.

With the purchase of a movie camera, a telephoto lens, a tripod, a titling device, and other equipment, the club is making splendid progress. Better ideals and attitudes toward the movies plus a genuine knowledge of how they are made create a bond between school life and the outside world for the active members of the club.

Theatrical Make-Up

In the theater, one of the most important factors for success is correct make-up. Knowing the best types of make-up and how to use them to obtain the best characterizations is as much a part of the theater as the footlights. The Theatrical Make-Up Club, under the supervision of Miss Demuling, is a group of girls who are interested in the magic art of make-up, and who wish to know as much about the subject as possible. They have found that a skillful make-up adds much to the poise of an actress and helps to give the characterization the essential reality that makes for a fine performance.

Flying Fingers Club

In the rush and confusion of our modern school life, it would seem that the quiet, cultural art of needle work, once considered an essential part of every girl's education, is almost entirely overlooked. However, here at Academy, the members of the Flying Fingers Club have set their fingers to work to prove that the useful crafts of knitting, crocheting, embroidering, and needlepoint are still as easy to master as they were when Grandma went to school.

The girls have knitted sweaters and scarfs, and embroidered and crocheted table cloths that would warm the heart of the most exacting Grandma.

Senior Debating Club

One of the most worthy of all our school's organizations is the Senior Debating Club. Undoubtedly one of the best informed groups in the school, the club keeps abreast of the times by frequently debating with other school organizations.

The team, which represents Academy in inter-scholastic debates, is partially composed of the club's more eloquent members. This team, under the able direction of Mr. Phillips, has compiled as enviable record debating this resolution in competition—"Should the powers of the central government be increased?"

A student who participates in an active club such as this receives a multitude of advantages. He learns to formulate sound logical opinions, to present them forcefully, to make the best use of vocabulary, and to present his arguments in a convincing manner. The club is to be congratulated for its fine work in the past year.

Senior Camera Club

Miss Weir's Camera Club teaches the student the correct technique of taking pictures. Lectures and field trips are the main vehicles used in the diffusion of the knowledge of photometry.

The large, active membership is not surprising when one considers the popular appeal of photography. A few of the many technical operations are explained—enough to arouse interest—small enough to enable a systematic assimilation of the principle.

Many who participate in this club become imbued with the subject and become ardent candid camera fans—"The worst possible view of everything." The purpose of the club is to arouse interest in this great science, and to explain its more intricate phases. Judging by its many active members, the club has not failed in its purpose.

Cruise Club

All Ashore! The Cruise Club is about to embark on another of its vicarious journeys into the lands across the waters. By taking advantage of every available movie, speaker, and book, the club is able to give its members the benefit of another's experiences. Miss Baushard is ever on the alert to contact good outside speakers and to keep the Cruise Club "Steamship Catalog" library up to the minute; her supply of information seem to be inexhaustible.

A large membership endorses the excellence of the club which is their "Seeing Eye" in all the scenic places that they could long to visit. The members alternate weekly in the presentation of a real-life travel experience—a practice which has revealed many excellent travelogues among the members.

All aboard that's going aboard.

The aim of the Sub-Deb Club is to develop the social poise and grace of the High School girl.

This club is a member of the national organization whose headquarters are In New York City. Club programs, such as round table discussions, quiz programs, and short skits, are formulated from material received from Elizabeth Woodward, the national Sub-Deb advisor. These programs aim to improve the manners, personality, and grooming of its members by discussions on conduct in school and on dates, correct dress, the latest fashions, and ordinary manners.

Hi-Y Club

Bollard.

The Hi-Y Club is the leading Christian boy's organization in the school. Through its affiliation with the Y. M. C. A., the club enjoys many benefits, especially the use of the "Y" for meetings and recreation.

The Hi-Y builds character through its diversified educational, recreational, and fraternal program. Under the supervision of Mr. Leamy and Max Darone, the club has brought before the boys many speakers and educators who talk on a variety of vital subjects.

The weekly meetings are held in the "Y" on Wednesday evenings to transact the necessary business. Frequent outings at the "Y" camp, treasure hunts, parties, and dances develop the boys socially into better men.

Because America looks to the future, the Hi-Y motto, "Clean speech, Clean sports, Clean scholarship, and Clean living", seems to eloquently say, "Good boys make Good men."

Charm Club

Row 1—P. Ernst, S. Cooper, M. Bannister—Program Chairman, V. Johnson—Secretary, J. Rosenthal—Treasurer, L. Christoph. Row 2—P. Graham, G. Hicks, W. Telega, Mrs. VonKorff—Adviser, D. Schwab, C. Carey, M. Arnold. Row 3—M. Daugherty, G. Jones, L. Cooper, V. Heim, P. Herbstritt, L. Scully.

"Down with Wallflowers" is the motto of the Charm Club. The members of this club aim to make the most of their good points and to correct their less favorable features. By learning the proper care of the hair, skin, and teeth as well as proper clothing, the girls attempt to rid themselves of self-consciousness and indifference to appearance.

Through well-planned programs, the members accustom themselves to proper conduct while in company with their elders or with the opposite sex. Slang is taboo with these girls who follow the straight and narrow path of correct speech.

Press Club

Row 1—M. Paradine, B. Pfister, B. Specter, L. Winters, Mr. Radder, P. Heberle, A. Alward, E. O'Connell, N. Casper, H. Hodas. Row 2—K. Wagner, A. Volk, E. Zawistowski, M. Hafenstiner, B. Nagle, I. The Press Club, a stepping stone to the Star Staff, aims to acquaint its members with the fundamentals of journalism. Students who are interested in this field, get their first experience by publishing the "Hilltopper," the club paper which comes out during club period.

The members of this club cover and write up the important club activities, also the purposes and accomplishments of the various clubs.

The Hilltopper cooperates with the clubs in advertising their social functions, and during the past year assisted the Star Staff in erecting the "A" which decorated the school at Christmas time.

"To find and give the best" is the purpose of the Girl Reserves. This organization was started sixty years ago by a group of twenty girls and since that time has increased its membership until today its enrollment includes thousands of girls all over the world.

The annual Mid-Winter Sectional Conference, which was held in Erie, made this an especially eventful year. Girl Reserves from Pennsylvania and New York State participated in the conference.

Ready for service at all times, the members have helped with such worthy projects of the Bundles for Britian, the Greek Relief, and the Needy Girl Fund. At each commencement this club presents the "Character Cup" to a girl in the graduating class who, during her High School career, has excelled in character, leadership, and service.

Sub-Deb Club

Row 1—M. Felix, V. Holland, J. Colman, L. Blackman, L. Petreauin, D. Metzger, E. Carlson, A. Fitzgerald, J. Humrod. Row 2—B. Saylor, G. Runser, J. Wilconson, M. Rafferty, D. Herzog, D. Fey, S. Fehrer, M. Randall, M. Olrien, G. Krieder, A. Mancuos, T. Spulnick, G. Carneval, F. Crawford.

What plays a more important part in the daily life of the average girl than her appearance and conduct? If she knows that she is properly dressed and behaving like a lady, her confidence in herself and in her surroundings is greatly increased. She is poised and balanced, sure of herself; she enjoys her friends, and they feel more at ease with her, for she has charm.

Most girls, however, are not born with this quality called charm; it must be instilled in them. At this point the Sub-Deb Club plays an important role by providing opportunity for girls to enhance their natural charm and graciousness of manner.

College Club

Row 1—J. Mattis, P. Young, M. Dick, R. Schmitt, M. Hutchison, M. Decker, Miss Lockwood, J. Hammond, M. Anderson, P. Kibler, G. Delamater, B. Linder. Row 2—S. Duda, R. Behnke, R. Fisher, P. The College Club, one of the original clubs of Academy, aims to acquaint its members with the various colleges of the country and to present an authentic picture of college life. The girls discuss such questions as: requirements for college entrance, expenses, subjects and degrees offered, sororities, the social life in girls and in co-educational schools. Students from various colleges visit the meetings and explain the advantages of the school they attend.

At Christmas time, scrap books are made for the Louis Sheldon Preventorium. Last fall, the members enjoyed the annual picnic which was held at Miss Lockwood's beautiful summer home.

To answer the demand for a club dedicated to musical appreciation, the Junior Clef Club was founded by Miss Schweitzer.

The club program consists of both semi-classical and swing music and the club period is spiced with a variety of both these types.

Besides the enjoyment and the knowledge of music that is attained from this organization, the members gain experience with which they can more easily decide later courses in musical education.

Mr. Detmers, Academy's foremost chess enthusiast, was responsible for the creation of the Academy Chess Club.

The club, one of the veteran organizations of the school, has a two-fold purpose: to give instructions to beginners in Chess and to improve the play of those who already understand the game.

A tournament, with all members participating, is the main event of the year. The members are divided into groups according to their experience and the group winners play each other for elimination. The better players play in city-wide tournaments.

Stage Crew

What would we do without the stage crew? During the past year, the stage crew, under the capable direction of Mr. Bright, has given unselfishly of its time to any task, whether it be large or small. They have played an important "behind-the-scene" role in all our assemblies, classplays and school dances, and have, as a result, been an important factor in the success of these occasions.

Heretofore, their valuable aid has gone practically unrecognized. Of course, they did receive work jackets as a small measure of appreciation, but now we realize that we owe them a generous vote of thanks.

Row 1—D. Higgins, D. Wuenschel, M. Sutter, F. Coughlin, W. Brown, E. Hinkler. Standing—J. Monkowski, Mr. J. Bright.

Machine Shop and National Defense

Academy leads on! Since the national defense problem started, Academy has been doing its utmost to assist the government.

The United States Government has called for more machinists; Academy has answered by training machinists in our fine machine shop.

Academy has also given up her large, well-equipped wood shop for the benefit of National Defense. The National government will install new and modern lathes in the wood shop, and, after the defense work is over, all the equipment used, which will amount to about $100,000, will be donated to our school alone, for the purpose of training machinists during more peaceful periods.

Miss Tanner's Monitors

The monitor force is a large but efficient organization, so efficient that very little is heard about it. In seven shifts of sixteen each—a shift for every period and two for fourth period—the monitors quietly guard our portals. A round, gold and blue badge signifies a monitor; this badge must be worn by the monitor until he is relieved by the monitor of the next shift; thus, the guard is constant.

Door monitor number one is captain of his force. He is responsible for the conduct and attendance of the other monitors, and for the collection of the attendance slips. The duties of the monitors include checking on the people entering and leaving the building, conducting strangers to the office, and being generally helpful to anyone who needs aid.

Besides the regular monitor force, there are two other types of monitors: the cafeteria monitors and the office assistants. The duties of the former are to keep traffic in the cafeteria untangled, the aisles clear, and general conduct creditable. The office assistants, of which there are eighteen, run errands, receive phone calls, and help the office force as much as possible.

Heinlein. Row 3—R. Dudenhoefer, V. Hemme, R. Geisaka, R. Luther, E. Horrigan, C. Nick, T. Guarino, J. Davidson, J. Hartwell, C. Barnett.

Movie Monitors

The Movie period at Academy High recently celebrated its first anniversary. Already we have enjoyed such major productions as "Let George Do It" and "Crossroads." Since nearly two thousand students daily attend the four movie periods, it was necessary to establish some system of efficiency. The movie monitors was the solution. This staff of ninety students was chosen from volunteers of the third and fourth study periods. They collect fees, tabulate customers, guard the exists, and maintain discipline in the audiences. Under the supervision of Mr. Torrance, they have become a vital part of Academy life.

HAMMERMILL

the best known name in paper

Since 1898, Hammermill has manufactured papers for American business.

For nearly thirty of those years, Hammermill Bond and other Hammermill papers have been advertised consistently and continuously, so that today the Hammermill trademark means good paper in the minds of millions of people in the United States and in many foreign countries.

Hammermill papers, made in Erie by Erie men and women, live up to that reputation.

This IS Commencement!

You have prepared your mind to learn . . . Now, on to college . . . or the beginning of a career in business or industry.

In spite of troubled times and uncertainty, these United States offer more opportunity today than ever before. A good rule is — Keep your eyes and ears open.. mouth shut... mind alert...and hands busy. Make friends! Then you will learn how to influence people. Be happy as well as dependable. Your success will be in just proportion to your efforts.
